PING PONG DIPLOMACY...

Pardon the personal allusion, but this Mainland Chinese effort toward "ping pong diplomacy" reminds of experience with an excellent player who also happened to be Oriental.

It was in the Army in the early 1950s. Fort Sill at the time had hundreds of officers from the Republic of South Korea going through a basic officers course.

This ROK major was quite the ping pong player. And those thousands in the Milam area who ever served time on an Army post recall the dayroom with the ping-pong table, pool table and other distractions at military clubs.

Something of a tennis player, but little at ping pong. I spent some time learning the art of the paddle, Korean style. And this guy kept beating everybody. Very politely.

112-112-112

Playing him, and he turned out to be the ROK Army champion, was something like playing a windmill. He slammed everything, forehand and backhand. He slashed serves certainly as well as some of these Chinese players who entertained the Americans, opening up a "new era" of entente with the West.

Whatever, this ROK major had following, some junior officers who stood alongside the table and applauded his continuing victories.

His certainty with celluloid was unnerving. The Chinese certainty is much the same. Done with the Americans, who rank 24th in international competition, they now invite Australians, who are much better at tennis than "ganpiganop."

But, back to our ROK major. He had even another edge over the best opponent. And I was not one of these.

Slashing points and shattering your smashes with Oriental finesse and ferocity, the Major usually won by 8 or 10 points.

He smiled when he caroomed one by you. His junior officers and loyal supporters applauded and cheered. And this was in a small room big enough for a ping pong table, two players and small rooters.

He smiled when you missed one. He knew no English, except "ha-ro" or "yes-s-s" or "nice shot," and I knew no Korean. So there was a lot of smiling and laughing, the kind of thing you do when nothing else seems appropriate.

And the smiling and shouts had an Oriental twist. When you gloomped one into the net or you missed a put away, they also smiled and cheered.

112-112-112

You learn something at the hands of an expert. And when the expert has a cheering section close at hand, polite and smiling and vocal at every point, earned or not, you tend to understand a difference between East and West.

I would rather play ping pong again with the ROK major than Chairman Mao. Not so much for Chang Kai-shek's favor nor because of withdrawal from Vietnam or other obvious reasons.

There is this mystique about the Oriental World opening to the West. Closed by choice for almost 2,000 years. China hopes to come into play in the Pacific where the U. S. entered some 75 years ago, during the Spanish-American War. A de facto power, they want into the UN. They want part of markets of emerging nations like Indonesia.

Chairman Mao is serving up more than a ping-pong match. He has a following, like the ROK major, which applauds on cue, because of conditioned reflex and little other choice.

He plays ping pong with a team ranked No. 1 in international competition, who amiably won every match save one singles during the American team's stay.

Like the ROK major, Chairman Mao is a clever ping-pong player. And I am interested to see who tallies when the cheering stops. Not so much out of distrust, but because of a difference 2,000 years make.

Yoe Student At Conference On Youth In Colo.

A Cameron high school student is one of 13 Texas youths attending the President's Conference on Youth being held this week at Estes Park, Colorado.

Kathryn Kahler, a senior at Yoe High School, is attending the conference as a member of the Task Force on Values, Ethics and Culture. Invitation to the conference came following her participation in the Governor's Conference of Youth in Austin last October.

More than 1,500 participants are attending the conference at Estes Park including 1,000 youths between age 15 and 24, 500 adults and more than 50 international guests.

The conference was started by Franklin D. Roosevelt and is called every 10 years. This is the first time the President's White House Conference on children has been separate from the Conference on Youth.

Other task forces at the conference are: Legal Rights and Justice, Economy and Unemployment, Environment and Ecology, Drugs and Race Relations.

ACCIDENT VICTIM OK

Leotis Miller, 7, is reported in satisfactory condition in a local hospital after being struck by a car Sunday morning on US 190 at the intersection of N. Nolan. Driver of the car was Thomas E. Spells, according to Cameron police. The boy is recovering from a broken leg.

LAST PRACTICE SESSION before the UIL contest Wednesday is held by the Yoe High School Concert Band. The concert and sight reading contest was held at Waco, with schools competing against each other for top ratings.

Rogers Awaits 13th Biennial Homecoming

Fun for everyone is promised Saturday at Rogers 13th Biennial Homecoming, with parade, dancers, good food, and reunions of Rogers exes -- students and residents.

Special displays will be in store windows recalling the town's past when it was a booming cotton center. Benches will be placed along sidewalks to rest tired feet and provide for friendly talk and reminiscing.

Highlight of the downtown program will be a parade at 2 p.m. and the dedication of an official Texas historical marker at 3 p.m.

The Homecoming Queen will ride in the parade along with her three princesses, and she will be officially crowned at the 8 p.m. program in the school auditorium.

A fried chicken dinner will be served in the cafeteria from 5:30 until 8 p.m.

At the 8 p.m. meeting, Czech Beseda Dancers from Seaton and Cameron will be featured. Winners in the parade and other contest categories will be announced and awards presented.

This will include a prize to the riding club with the most club shirts and oldest car; the oldest male and female graduates, the graduate who traveled the most miles to the homecoming; and the person holding the lucky meal ticket.

Everyone in neighboring communities is invited to attend the homecoming.

New Explorer Post Delves Into Indian Lore

The Indian drum beat and soft thud of moccasined feet at Wilson-Ledbetter Park Sunday didn't signal the arrival of an Indian tribe, but it was an authentic Indian dance.

The dancers, complete the feathers and war paint, are members of a new Explorer Scout troop who are learning Indian folk lore and dance. Troop Advisor is Roy Boutwell whose credits include a major in Anthropology at the University of Texas and years of personal study and exploration into American Indian background.

For members of the Explorer Troop, Boutwell's interest in Indian lore will mean some intensive study into the Central Texas Indians, their life style, dress and warrior dances.

The scouts plan three camping trips this summer - not the tent and barbecue variety, but rugged back pack hikes and Indian style cooking. They also plan to construct an authentic teepee on the Boy Scout grounds at W-L Park.

Boutwell explained that the Indian dance played a major role in the American Indian religion. The dancers were part of an elite society within the tribe whose members had proven themselves as warriors. These dancers were usually about the age of the Cameron Scouts who are working to perfect the Sioux Wolf Dance.

Boutwell said the dance project will take about a year to complete. Learning the steps is almost a minor part. The boys will make their own drums from hollow logs, buffalo and deer hides.

Costumes will be the authentic buckskin coat, moccasins, war paint and wigs. Some of the Explorers have many feathered Indian costumes, but Boutwell explained that these were really Hollywood style versions of the Indian dancers.

"Most of the dances depict animals," Boutwell said, "and feathers had little part in the dance rituals of the Central Texas Indians." He said the group planned to do some exhibition dancing and hoped to be ready for Folk Fete '72, complete with dance, drums and costumes.

Boutwell said the troop would concentrate on the Plains Indian culture. His collection of more than 1,000 arrowheads, stone tools and pottery will add interest to the study.

Much of this collection came from the Leon River Shed area near Temple. He said the collection showed how the Indian traded information and goods across North America. Some painted pottery in his collection was found near Temple but probably came from New Mexico where that art was practiced. Arrow-

Clocks Move Up For DST Sunday

It's that time again -- time to turn the clock forward one hour Sunday morning, when Daylight Saving Time goes into effect.

A move was again made during this Legislative session to get Texas exempted from DST, but the effort failed.

So, cows and chickens will again be puzzled by different milking and feeding times, and mothers will complain about trying to put kiddoes to bed with the sun still shining, and there will be that extra hour to spend on yard work, men.

Officially the time change comes at 2 a.m. Sunday, but you can change your clock Saturday night or wait until Sunday morning.

As of April 19, 29 of the 40 persons affected by a force reduction in early January at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works have been recalled to the plant, according to Production Manager H. A. Bower.

"This near 75 percent recall has been prompted by the need to fill vacancies created by personnel turnover and by our need to reline a number of electrolytic cells (pots) that have burned out in recent weeks," Bower explained.

"The force reduction in early January of this year, which amounted to less than 3 percent of the plant's total work force, stemmed from changes in the metal forms that customers were buying from us in the latter part of 1970. A stepped-up demand for sheet ingot, which require fewer persons to produce on a per pound basis, occurred at a time when orders for extrusion ingot and redraw rod declined," Bower said.

"We at Alcoa are pleased to announce this significant restoration of forces at the Rockdale smelting plant," Bower stated.

Czech Dancers To Perform At Rogers

The adult circle of the Cameron Folk Fete Czech Beseda Dancers will join the Seaton Czech Dancers for a performance on the Rogers Homecoming program at 8 p.m. Saturday night in the high school auditorium.

The 40-member dance group is also scheduled for a television appearance on Channel 6 in May.

The group, sponsored by Mrs. Frank P. Mikulec Jr., has accepted a number of invitations for guest appearances since first performing at the Cameron Folk Fete last June.

The dancers appeared at the annual SPJST Lodge 47 picnic in Seaton and the annual St. Cyril and Methodius picnic in Marak.

In October the group traveled by chartered bus to Dallas for a performance at the Coliseum. Along with more than 200 dancers from the Central Texas area they helped celebrate the 30th anniversary of Czech Days at the State Fair. The local group was the largest one representing their city.

Two circles of the dancers appeared on a talent program sponsored by the English class at Temple Junior College. The dancers also appeared at the 10th Coppini art exhibit and Fourth Texas-wide Craft Show Folk Festival sponsored by the Central Texas Area Museum in Salado.

The group has received an invitation to dance at the annual senior citizens program at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Temple and are invited again to Salado April 24-25 for the Pilgrimage to Old Salado Folk Festival.

Regional Conference Drafts Aging Policies

Elderly people and specialists in the field of aging met recently at Mary Hardin-Baylor College in Belton to draft proposals in preparation for the National White House Conference on Aging.

The regional meeting was one of 12 held throughout the state.

Attending from Milam County were Mrs. Clyde Holliman of Rockdale, county chairman for the Governor's Committee on Aging; Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Brockman, Miss Alice Shields, Mrs. Julius Moultry, Eugene Cary, all of Rockdale; Mrs. Wavy Charles of Tracy, Mrs. R. L. Humber of Branchville, and Miss Christine Laws of Cameron.

Policy proposals drafted at the regional conferences will be channeled into the State White House Conference on Aging May 26-28 in Dallas, for additional consideration and amendments before they are transmitted to Washington, D. C. for the National Conference.

City Accepts Bid On Library Work

The city council meeting in regular session Tuesday awarded a contract for foundation work on the public library to a Waco firm and voted to wait on starting work until mid-June.

Hendrick and Adams Co. of Waco submitted one of the two bids and was low bidder at $8700.

Council also opened bids on an ice making machine and a two-ton truck for the sanitation department. The ice bids were tabled for study and the truck bid was awarded to Cameron Equipment Co.

Councilmen voted to install a guard light near the bandstand at City Park and discussed use of the Community Center.

Beside Work....

If ever you wonder whether people want something to do in the evening, note the crowd size the other night at the annual "Powder Puff" game.

Some thousand, including dozens of people on the field or sidelines, viewed the annual event at Yoe Stadium and had a lot of fun watching girls "pre-empt" another male sanctuary, the gridiron.

Yoe seniors raised well over $400 in gate receipts alone, not counting concessions.

Action on the field saw the charades of "cheerleaders" and mini-band while the YHS girls collided during four 15-minute quarters fifth - down football. Somebody won 24-18.

Point is a lot of adults came out to see kids have fun and had a good time themselves.

Another point is Cameron will support numerous efforts to entertain. The market is here for people who want something to do after work is done.

'Ride On'...Check Out?

Crisis after crisis reveals itself in the Middle East as Jews and Arabs swap diplomacy across the Suez and the River Jordan.

Things change little. We are extricating ourselves in Vietnam and sustaining a threat of nuclear confrontation where the East and West divided two milleniums ago.

It is ironic for senators like George McGovern to demand total withdrawal from Vietnam by December 31 and yet commit the U.S. to defense of Israeli in the face of a confrontation with Russia.

Urged on by cries of "ride on" from veterans with anti-Vietnam War sentiment, Senator McGovern reasserts the demand to set a date and get out.

Would if we could, the same should be suggested to the Jews who so brashly took the Arabs apart in the "Six Days War."

Why is it we should check out while the Jews stay? How, Senator, do we isolate from Asia and expand by proxy in the Middle East?

CHURCH GROUP RENEGE ON BOB HOPE AWARD

REP. BARRY M. GOLD-WATER JR. (Calif.) "...The recent decision by the New York Council of Churches to cancel its "Family of Man" award to Bob Hope is a sad commentary on the tactics employed by the antiwar groups in this country.

"The council had previously agreed and, in fact made the arrangements for Bob Hope to receive this award but then changed its mind because a majority of the members felt that Mr. Hope was too identified with support for the President's policy in Indochina. Through some obscure reasoning, the New York Council of Churches feels that going ahead with the award to Bob Hope would have implied that they support the Government's policy.

"In this life we all make contributions in different ways. Bob Hope has chosen to make his by bringing pleasure and entertainment to millions of Americans. For more than 20 years he has given up his Christmases to entertain our troops in the field. He has also worked tirelessly over the years to raise countless millions of dollars for charities, particularly hospitals and churches.

"To slap this man in the face by announcing that you are rescinding the award because you do not agree with his political views, is a mean and petty thing to do. I do quarrel with the gutter tactic of setting a man up and then slapping him down.

"Perhaps the antiwar faction within the New York Council of Churches counts this as a victory. I can only hope there are enough other decent people on this council who realize that their action

Dear Friends -
"Look what they've done to my town."

It does take a lot of living in a town to make it home and I guess that's the reason I feel as I do about Cameron. I did do a lot of living there and even now after all the years and so far away, I still do, and always will feel that Cameron really does belong to me in a way. I am deeply interested in the contemplated urban renewal.

I well remember when the proposed area was a bee hive of activity - not only for Cameron but for all of Milam County. Probably the first bank in Cameron was here located - Crawford & Crawford (Wilbur and Frank) and there also were many stores of all kind - grocery, dry-goods, saloons - yes, they were called saloons in the old days. Some of the owners I well remember were J. D. Morton, Bob and Lee McLane, F. A. Black, Lawrence Posey and many others.

Carl Fahrendorf had a little hole in the wall where he made and mended shoes. Everybody had their shoes half-soled in those days. Mr. Fahrendorf was my neighbor and I would take my shoes to him to be mended and sit and watch him as he put in a tack and hammered it down. Old timers will remember the Neher Saddle Shop and the popular barber shop, owned and operated by everybody's friends, Will and Frank Fuller. Jim Slocomb made our oyster loafs - the best in town.

Many of Milam County's finest lawyers had offices upstairs over these stores. One - Monta J. Moore - was a candidate for Governor one time and I well remember riding a Sap special train to Waco when he made his opening campaign with the slogan "Shall the trusts rule Texas, or shall the people mount the steed of State?" Cameron's beloved Jim Watson hung his first shingle for the practice of dentistry in Cameron, in one of these upstairs offices.

If I could wave my wand, I guess I would put it all back like it was once upon a time. We'd surely not have much progress, but then we wouldn't have all the pollution and smog, either.

Some one has said that God gives us memories so we can have our roses in December. Well, I'm having my roses all right, but in a land of snow and ice and not in Texas - the land of sunshine and roses.

Rising Welfare Costs Needs 'Prompt Braking'

By Vern Sanford

Steadily-rising welfare costs will "bankrupt" state government unless prompt braking is applied, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes has warned.

Barnes -- acknowledging that a tax bill which may climb to nearly a billion dollars is necessary to balance the Senate's $6.99 billion version of the biennial state budget -- named a special committee to recommend how to effect welfare economies.

Senate, meanwhile, approved the record budget while a subcommittee drafted a tax bill. The house is expected to move out this week with its appropriations bill.

Only one year of welfare financing is included in the Senate bill. With a half-way welfare budget, about $668 million in new taxes will be needed this year. Appropriating for welfare in a later special session will require nearly $300 million more, unless the federal government steps in with additional aid.

Barnes' staff calculates Aid to Families with Dependent Children rolls are increasing by 3.10 per cent per month. Where 288,826 AFDC beneficiaries are anticipated by September 1 this year, 906,236 are seen by August 31, 1973. The latter figure would bring the AFDC cost to $76 million a year -- $16 million above the proposed new $55 million annual ceiling to be voted on May 18.

The Lieutenant Governor also noted that Medicaid costs have increased from $22 million in 1968 to an estimated $144 million for next year. He said state medical services to the needy -- financed through Blue Cross family insurance policies which will cost nearly $72 per family next year -- are better than those received by all but the very wealthy.

"I am convinced we are going to have to reduce the cost, or the state is going bankrupt," said Barnes.

OIL ALLOWABLE CUT

May oil production allowable will be cut to a maximum daily flow of 184,076 barrels.

Railroad Commission cited reasons for the cut as substantial stocks of crude oil on hand, overall reduction in demand, and rising imports.

Commission's decision trimmed the allowable from 82.1 per cent in April to 77.2 per cent for next month.

May allowable, lowest in eight months, permits a maximum daily production of 3,637,654 barrels. Actual production is expected to be about 3,362,000 barrels daily, approximately what major buyers asked for.

Crude oil stocks on April 9 came to 108.3 million barrels, a million more than the week before and 2.4 million more than the year before. Ten of 14 big crude oil purchasers asked for the same allowable next month as in April. Three asked less, and one requested more.

INSURANCE CHANGE VOTED
The Legislature had some good news for insurance purchasers last week.

A bill to create a special pool to guarantee coverage to property owners in "catastrophe areas" (subject to hurricanes, tornadoes and other disasters) won final passage. The pool will be effective May 14. A pool arrangement may be ordered later for fire and explosion insurance if that is found difficult to obtain in some areas.

Another major bill passed by the Senate would create a statewide guaranty fund to assure payment of claims against insurance companies which go broke.

Hospital - medical insurance policyholders, under a House-passed bill, could be reimbursed for treatment by any licensed, qualified practitioner of the healing arts -- physicians, osteopaths, dentists, chiropractors, optometrists and doctors of podiatry.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, has held that former Gov. Allan Shivers' commutation in 1953 of the death sentence of a San Antonio man to life imprisonment with the provision that he never be eligible for further clemency is not binding on future governors.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:
* Sabine River Authority can enter a deferred compensation and pension plan with its executive employees.

* Texas Water Rights Commission should reject all claims from parties asserting right to use water from the Rio Grande in Starr, Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties where claims have been adjudicated in courts.
* Stephen F. Austin State University, Nacogdoches, may acquire joint ownership interest in or long-term lease of a football stadium owned by an independent school district.

* A $10 a month supervisory fee may be assessed a person granted probation after trial.

Owed Tax? Increase Withholding

Now is the time for wage earners who owed additional tax for 1970 to take another look at their income tax withholding situation to see whether it covers their actual tax liability.

Prompt action before 1971 gets too far under way will solve many tax problems for next year, according to A. P. Andrews, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service, Temple.

The IRS spokesman said today that most of the wage earners who still owed additional tax after withholding were those who had income from sources other than wages, and the taxpayer did not file an estimated tax return.

In those cases, he suggested that taxpayers file a new withholding exemption certificate, Form W-4 with their employers to increase the amount of tax withheld each pay period.

If the taxpayer has already reduced his exemptions to zero, he may enter into an agreement with his employer to withhold additional amounts needed each pay period to meet his tax obligations.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

According to most of the newspapers I've read lately, the celebrated ping-pong matches between the Americans and the Chinese champions are opening up a new era in international relations and everybody hopes it's true, but it won't hurt to keep on the alert.

If you recall, we got invited, I guess that's the word, to a war over in that part of the world and whatever you want to say about the results, they haven't been happy. Nobody knows what the score is or how much time is left, the officiating has been terrible, very few people are left in the cheering section, and changing the coaching staff hasn't warmed up the fans' enthusiasm much.

You never can tell about these Orientals. You notice it was a ping-pong, not a football, team they asked us to send over there to play with.

However, if in discharging our obligations to return the favor, the State Department figures it would be undiplomatic or indelicate to ask the Chinese to send a football team over here to take on the Baltimore Colts or the Dallas Cowboys, why not ask them to send over a basketball team? We've got to even up this ping-pong thing one way or another. You ever see any seven-foot Asiatics? Let's get em over here before Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell get too old.

Seriously, sports may be the answer to world turmoil, and I've got a plan. There are now nearly 300 million television sets in the world and as everybody knows, football, once a fan gets hooked on it on television, leaves no time for much of anything else.

Since a football player can't hold up to playing 12 months out of the year, the world should be divided into three conferences, one to play during the fall and early winter, one in the spring, and one in the summer, with all games televised world-wide. It might take a little time for a fan in Cameron to get interested in the Peking Bandits or the Sidney Kangaroos, but it could be done.

You get an average of 3 people to the set, and you'd have nearly a billion people glued to their screens watching football the year round.

Where's the leader who could work in a war under these circumstances?

Yours faithfully
J. A.

Foot in the Door

To the bus driver waiting at the wheel, it seemed that the fat lady was his final customer. But behind her, unseen by the driver, a girl was also preparing to come aboard. She had already gotten one foot in the door when he closed it and started to move.

The girl was flung to the pavement and injured. In due course, she sued the bus company for damages.

"Even if his view was blocked by that fat lady," she told the court, "he had no right to close the door without double-checking. After all, a common carrier owes a high degree of care to its passengers."

"Maybe so," conceded the company. "But this girl was not yet a passenger. She had paid no fare. She had not really gotten aboard. We do regret the incident, but we are not legally liable."

Nevertheless, the court held that the girl was indeed a passenger, entitled to extra care, and granted her claim.

This is the prevailing rule, that a person may acquire the special status of "passenger" even before he is inside the vehicle. It is usually enough that he has shown his readiness to come aboard -- and that the company has shown its readiness to accept him.

But the readiness on both sides must coincide. Take this case:

A man rushed up to a bus just after the door had closed. He knocked on the glass, but the bus was already beginning to roll. The man slipped, fell, and got hit by the rear wheel.

Could he collect damages from the company? A court said no, because he had not gained the status of a passenger. The court pointed out that he had not shown his readiness to ride until the driver had stopped showing his readiness to accept him.

A parallel problem arises at journey's end: at what moment does the passenger lose his special status?

In another case a passenger alighted at a bus stop, began to cross the street, and was knocked down by a second bus passing the one he had just left. Here, he claimed damages on the theory that his driver should have warned him that another bus was following.

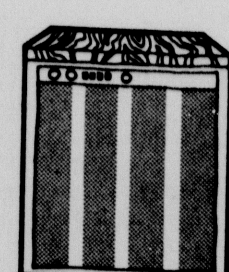

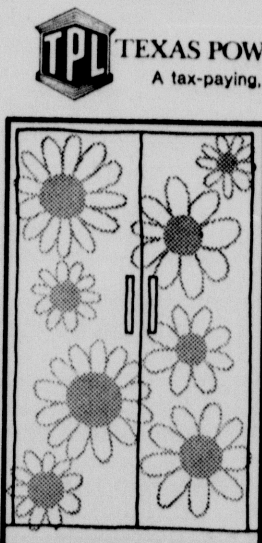

But the court said the driver could not be blamed, because the man had lost his status as a passenger. Once safely discharged, said the court, a passenger turns into just another pedestrian.

State To Auction Off Surpluses

The State of Texas' Fifth Public Auction is expected to attract hundreds of businessmen, housewives, farmers, ranchers, city fathers, students, sportsmen and persons from varied vocations because of the wide variety of surplus property to be offered at 9 a.m., Saturday, April 24, in Austin's City Coliseum. H. A. Foerster, Executive Director, State Board of Control announced. Fifteen State agencies are offering hundreds of needed items to the highest bidder. As an example: The Texas Employment Commission will sell desks, tables, metal file cabinets, water coolers and chairs; the Department of Public Safety offers 103 cars; the Highway Department's list includes radio equipment, 32 office machines, pickups and station wagons; the Senate and House of Representatives will sell 42 electric typewriters; the Texas Department of Corrections will sell a Model G-253 - Hobart Welder; the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's list includes 22 vehicles, 4 boats, 19 motors, sedans and pickups; the Comptroller of Public Accounts offers 27 adding machines and typewriters.

Complete auction lists are available from the Board of Control, 9th floor, The Finance Building, 111 East 17th Street, Austin, Texas.

Foerster said the four other State of Texas sponsored auctions had grossed more than $261,000. The auctions have been such a success that many of the State agencies believe their return on surplus has more than doubled.

Registration for the auction and inspection of the items for the auction will begin at 7:30 a.m. and continue until 9 a.m. at which time the auction will begin. The Nelson International Company will act as auctioneers for the State of Texas.

Marihuana Report

Sometimes it is difficult to get people to look at the lightning-rod issue of marihuana with objectivity. Too often, laymen—and, on occasion, scientists themselves—will search for pieces of information to substantiate preconceived attitudes.

To provide factual, objective, and up-to-date information helpful to all, the U.S. Congress directed that a report on marihuana and health be prepared. The members of Congress are concerned about the increased use of marihuana and want to know what dangers this use represents to the health of the people.

This concern is shared by local, State, and federal agencies which deal with mind-altering drugs, investigate their potential for usefulness or danger, and are involved in regulating their distribution and use.

What is homegrown in the Midwest most likely will not pose the same threat as that which is imported from Southeast Asia. Both are usually lumped together under the term "marihuana." In addition, there are several variable factors which come into play when one is discussing the effects of marihuana: anticipation of the user, his experience in smoking, amount he smokes, environment in which he smokes, and the psychological and physiological makeup of the user.

Until we know more about the drug, we certainly cannot give it a clean bill of health.

Meeting Set On Rural Landfills

By J. D. Moore

"Community sanitary landfills" will be discussed next Friday, April 23, 2 p.m. in a meeting to be held in the conference room of the First National Bank in Cameron.

Hugh Smith, area Engineer, Soil Conservation Service will use slides to discuss plans for constructing community landfills to be used for community garbage disposal landfills.

Community leaders, members of the county commissioners court, and community water system representatives are urged to attend. Others interested in community development are invited to attend.

Rural development and community improvement go hand in hand. According to John Snell, Associate County Agricultural Agent the Texas Community Improvement program has in past years proven to be a great benefit to rural communities in Milam County.

This program has been set up to stimulate individual family and community effort toward farm, home and community improvement. The objectives are to make farm and rural life more desirable and satisfying as well as more profitable and stable for rural families.

The Texas Community Improvement program is open to rural communities or neighborhoods throughout the state. It is sponsored by the electric utility companies operating in Texas in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

Cash prizes are awarded after winners have been determined on the basis of progress within the community in a one year period. Five communities in Milam County have participated in this particular program for years. They are Branchville, Davilla, Gause, Griffin Chapel and Maysfield.

The Branchville, Gause and Griffin Chapel communities have improved their community water situations through the acquisition of community water systems. All of the communities enrolled have worked for improved agricultural production and home improvements.

These communities pledged their full support to the Intensified Farm Planning Program, which is a pilot program set up to test the effectiveness of agricultural program aides working with small farmers on an intensified basis. This program has been successfully implemented in these communities.

TO THINK ABOUT

The average family of four eats 2 1/2 tons of food per year.

Social Security Tax For Farm Labor Is Increased

The social security tax to be withheld from farm wages increased to 5.2 percent on January 1, 1971 according to James I. Mallett, Farm Management Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The taxes withheld from wages must be matched with an equal amount by the employer and sent to the Internal Revenue Service.

When the social security tax withheld plus the employers contribution reaches $100 or more at the end of any calendar month, the total amount must be deposited by the 15th day of the following month in a Federal Reserve Bank or a commercial bank authorized by the Internal Revenue Service to accept social security tax deposits. There are statutory penalties for failure to make the required timely deposits.

Mallett explains that a farmer is required to withhold social security tax on any farm employee who works one hour or more on 20 days or more, or who

Hereford Association Calls Area Meeting

Area Emphasis Promotion and Guide Lines Herd Performance Records will be the subjects under discussion at a special meeting of the Central Texas Polled Hereford Association to be held in cooperation with the Texas PHA, at 7 p.m. Saturday evening, May 1, at the new Holiday Inn located on I-35 in Waco.

A two point program has been planned, the first part on developing the using both identification and performance records in a registered cow herd and the second part on promotion and merchandising of purebred cowherds in order to fully develop potential markets, according to Harry Dulick, President of the Texas PHA.

The meeting is related to the American Polled Hereford Association's Area Emphasis Program, implemented last year to guide the efforts of the individual Polled Hereford breeders in promoting the sale of their own cattle.

Drouth Decisions For Grain Sorghum Outlined

While the continuing drouth is drastically reducing potential yield of grain sorghum for Texas producers without irrigation, it is also confronting farmers from the Blacklands to South Texas with decisions on late planting or replanting.

The situation in this area is critical in most fields where moisture has been available for planting, according to Ben R. Spears, Extension agronomist. He added that recent rain in some parts of South Texas has brought at least temporary relief to these areas.

In many planted fields moisture didn't last long enough for a full stand, and where moisture was available and stands were established, plants are now being lost from lack of rain.

Spears cautioned that plantings after May 1 in almost all of the area from the Blacklands to South Texas are likely to be short on moisture during the root to bloom stage (45-60 days after planting) when moisture is most critical.

Other possible damages to late plantings are heat damage to head formation, greater chances of charcoal rot damage, and possible severe infections of downy mildew and maize dwarf mosaic.

Spears warned growers with late plantings to check frequently on the need for insect control, especially control of sorghum midge and sorghum webworms. He added that fields near early plantings are especially subject to sorghum midge.

Reduced seeding rates and use of medium to medium - early hybrids are tools that producers can use in moisture deficient conditions, Spears said.

With the added hazards of late planting, farmers who could plant at the normal time may get better yields with an average of two to three plants per foot than they could with replanting, he advised.

If rains should come for late planting or replanting of grain sorghum, weeds, and particularly grasses, may be a greater problem than in earlier plantings, the agronomist warned.

"Control of such weeds in the drill row by cultivation would be difficult, and band application of a herbicide may be considered," Spears commented.

In fields planted for several weeks where a herbicide was applied at planting, most of a long persistence herbicide should still be present. Short persistence herbicide should still be present. Short persistence herbicides are probably not effective any more.

In replanting where a long persistence herbicide was used, plantings with knife or disc openers will avoid moving the treated soil from the drill row, according to Spears.

He added that if the movement of such soil can't be avoided, then a band application may be considered at replanting.

In the event of rain, and where the major weed problem is expected to be broad-leaved weeds, producers may wait until the crop is growing to determine whether post emergence herbicides will be needed.

Spears reminded producers that in carrying out planting, replanting, or decisions not to plant, they must remember the requirements for preserving feed grain bases under ASCS regulations.

ASCS NEWS

By Douglas Buck

Ballots for voting in the April 19-30 referendum on continuation of the mohair promotion and market - development program have been mailed to all known mohair producers in Milam County.

The vote will determine whether producers want to continue their support for the mohair sales promotion programs, but it will not affect present price-support payment legislation.

Under the new agreement, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Mohair Council of America would set up price-support payment deductions of up to 1 1/2 cents a pound on mohair marketed during 1971-73. Funds collected would be used by the Mohair Council to continue a program of mohair advertising, sales promotion, and related activities.

A similar agreement was approved by producers in March of 1967. During the past 3 years, the Council's budget for advertising and sales promotion programs has been $395,000 annually. With mohair poundage expected to be down a little bit from recent years, the Council proposes to maintain its current level of programs by using its reserve fund built up over the last 4 years when the deductions from producers' payment exceeded the Council expenditures.

Anyone who has owned Angora goats, 6 months old or older, for 30 consecutive days during 1970 may vote in the referendum.

Approval of two-thirds of the total number of producers voting, or of producers having two-thirds of the total volume of production represented in the referendum, must be obtained before the agreement can go into effect.

The voting will last for 2 weeks in order to enable as many mohair producers as possible to vote in the referendum.

Ballots may be mailed or brought to the County ASCS Office beginning April 19. Anyone who considers himself eligible and who does not receive a ballot by April 19, should get in touch with the County ASCS Office. Ballots must reach the office by Friday, April 30.

Yoe FFA Holds Annual Banquet

The Cameron Yoe FFA Chapter held its annual Parent-Son Banquet Thursday night, April 15.

One of the highlights of the occasion was the receiving of honorary members of the chapter. This year four new members were named.

They are Gene Hillman, Robert Maler, Coleman Duncum, and John M. Chubb. This award is presented to individuals who have rendered outstanding assistance and guidance to the local chapter.

Awards were presented to FFA chapter members who have achieved outstanding accomplishments during the past year. They are:

Richard Vaculin, Dekalbaward and Cameron Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Award.

Donnie Tucker, Lone Star Farmer; Jim Tittsworth, Star Chapter Farmer; Richard Dodd, Star Greenhand.

Jimmy Vaculin, fruit tree production; Gregory Brooks, ornamental horticulture; Jerry Mueck, crop farming; Glen Cryer, agricultural electrification; Lawrence Bauer, poultry farming.

Paul Vaculin, dairy farming; Bernard Wimmer, agricultural mechanics; David Angell, home improvement; Albert Patzke, soil, water and air management; Mike Patzke, outdoor recreation.

Ned McElwath, livestock farming; Gary Fuchs, placement in sales and/or service; Ricky Richter, placement in agricultural production.

Proficiency certificates:

Jamie Odom, beef production; Bill Vogelsang, swine production; VA I David Ehler and VA II Ricky Reinders, record keeping; Floyd Lynch, truck crop farming.

Edwin Kohutek, horse production; Clell Wise, worm production -- recreation food and facility; David Tucker, special services award -- new award, first year it has been awarded.

JUDGING CONTESTS

Two Yoe FFA judging teams competed in the Navasota judging contest on April 3. The range and pasture judging team won third.

Team members are Duane Tomek, Paul Vaculin and Larry Jistel. Duane was second high individual in the contest.

The soil judging team participated in the contest. Members are Glynn Cummings, Richard Dodd, Dennis Pelzel, and David Tucker.

In competition at San Marcos March 29 the poultry judging team won fourth place with 67 other schools competing. Members are Jimmy Vaculin, Bill Vogelsang, Gary Fuchs, Mike Mortimer, and Lawrence Bauer. Gary was fourth high individual.

Other Yoe teams participating included the dairy, dairy products, and livestock teams.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Danny Phillips

Million enrolled in 4-H Agricultural Program -- America's Basic Industry -- Americans are a hungry lot! Someone has figured that the average American during his lifetime eats 150 cows, 24,000 chickens, 225 lambs, 26 sheep, 310 hogs, 26 acres of grain and 50 acres of fruit and vegetables. And he also uses 9,450 quarts of milk.

American agriculture's efficiency has made it all possible. A tremendous producer, American agriculture also is a huge consumer of manufactured goods and services.

It is little wonder that a million youngsters between the ages of 9 and 10 find the 4-H agricultural program interesting and exciting.

The program is sponsored by International Harvester Company. The company is one of the oldest active supporters of 4-H, this year commemorating its 52nd anniversary as a contributor to the 4-H programs.

The 4-H agricultural program, according to the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H activities, includes a wide range of projects from automotive to livestock and tractor to veterinary science.

Farming the fertile acres of America is only one of the career choices available to 4-Hers enrolled in the program. Open to them are career opportunities in agricultural research, reclamation, forestry, banking and credit, government, education, communications and an almost unlimited variety of other areas.

According to one source, 15,000 new jobs open each year for college graduates majoring in some phase of agriculture and there are only 8,500 candidates to fill the need. In fact nearly one employed person out of every three works somewhere in agriculture.

4-Hers enrolled in the agricultural program also have the opportunity to earn recognition for outstanding projects. International Harvester makes available four gold-plated medals of honor per trip for members. An expense-paid trophy to the 50th National Congress in Chicago, No. 28 - Dec. 2, also is provided to the state winner.

At a special awards luncheon during the Congress, a representative of International Harvester will present educational scholarships of $700 each to six national winners in the 4-H agricultural program.

The awards program is arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

For more information concerning the 4-H agricultural program, contact the county extension office.

LOTS OF TWINE

The twine used to bale hay in the United States and Canada last year would stretch to the moon 72 times, reports farm machinery engineers.

COMPARE PRODUCTS

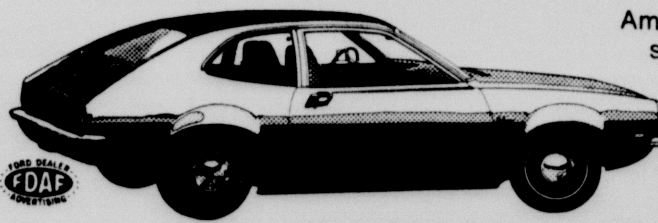

Food costs have risen less since 1947-49 than most other consumer items in the cost-of-living index. For all the items on the list, the increase in cost to 1969 was 57 percent. For all food, the increase was 48 percent. For rent, it was 63 percent, and for medical care 124 percent. The farmer received 8 percent more for the farm food "market basket" than he did in 1947-49. The cost of farm-grown food has risen 32 percent, although processing and marketing costs have risen 55 percent. And Texas farmers and ranchers are battling a drouth.

NATION'S BIGGEST INDUSTRY

Farming employs 4.6 million workers -- as many as the combined employment in transportation, steel industry and the automobile industry. Agriculture's assets total $307 billion, equal to about two-thirds of the value of capital assets of all corporations in the U.S. or about half the market value of all corporation stocks on the New York Stock Exchange. The value of agriculture's production assets represents about $50,000 for each farm employee, so says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Are you going to let your gas heating sleep through another summer?

Why not put it to work as an air conditioner?

It's a simple matter to install a cooling unit to your gas heating system. You can probably use the furnace blower and ductwork you already have. You'll save up to half the installation costs of starting from scratch.

Temperature control in your home is a year-round proposition, but not an expensive one. We have special rates for gas air conditioning during the summer. And no matter what the season, you pay less for gas than electricity.

Another nice thing about gas central air conditioning is its simplicity. There are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

Wake up your central gas heating to central gas cooling. You'll sleep better this summer.

Reception Honors Senator's Wife

An estimated 175 to 200 Milam County women attended a tea and reception honoring Mrs. John Tower, wife of Texas' senior U.S. Senator, which was held at the Cameron Country Club Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Tower and her party arrived from Austin shortly before the tea, which was from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., and received an enthusiastic reception. It was her first visit to Cameron and Milam County.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. Lester Williams, Mrs. Hilliard Thomas, Mrs. Bill Burns, Mrs. Robert Ellett, Mrs. Gene Blake, Mrs. Jack Tumlinson and Mrs. J. Estel Johnston.

In some informal remarks to the group of women before she departed, Mrs. Tower told them how pleased she was to be able to visit here and expressed her thanks for the reception. Then, commenting on the weather, she said how glad she was Texas had finally gotten drouth breaking rains.

"When we were up in the Panhandle last week there was practically a cloudburst," she said. "And it looked as though it was threatening to rain here when we came in just now."

"Your wild flowers here in Central Texas are beautiful," she added. "We saw great expanses of them on the drive up from Austin."

"Both John and I love to come back to Texas and spend time here whenever duties in Washington permit us to and meet the people all over the state."

Mrs. Tower and her party went from Cameron to Temple to attend a reception in her honor later in the evening at Temple Junior College.

Badgerettes Win Second In Regional

The Buckholts Badgerettes won second in regional at the Regional IV Conference B Tournament held at Blinn College in Brenham last Friday.

The Badgerettes played Comstock in the preliminary game and defeated them 15-5 in the first game and 15-3 in the second game.

Then the Badgerettes played Sabine Pass in the semi-final game and defeated them 15-2 in the first game and 15-7 in the second game to win the match.

The Badgerettes played Orchard in the finals and lost the first game 15-2, won the second game 15-12, and lost the third game in overtime 16-14.

This was the third year in a row that Orchard won the regional tournament and moved to the state playoffs.

The Badgerettes received a second place trophy and each member of the team received a medal.

Also playing Friday were the district winners for the Regional III AA title. Kountze played Georgetown for the title. Kountze won the first game 13-11, lost the second game 11-5, and won the last game 15-4 to win the game and title.

Rosebud-Lott Receives Nurse Funds

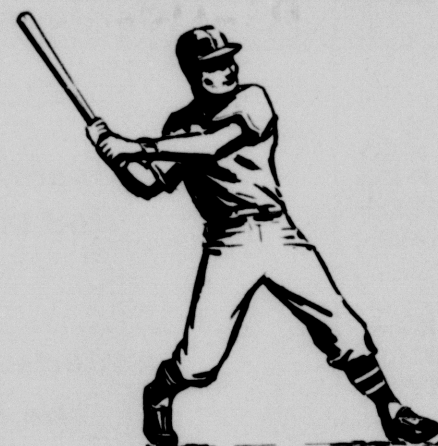

The Rosebud-Lott Independent School District has been awarded $52,106 in federal funds to conduct a training course for practical nurses, according to Rep. Dan Kubiak.

All of the training will be in occupations for which there is a local demand for a particular skill. Rosebud has a "tremendous need for nurses in the expansion of their new facilities," Kubiak noted in his April 16 newsletter.

He added that because of local efforts and initiative, his office was able to collaborate and make the project a reality.

In legislative news, Rep. Kubiak commented on what he called the second piece of major legislation considered this season -- liquor by the drink.

My Plight

Could it be the accident of birth that 'caved-in' her world? Does God discriminate between His people? Could it be that her home located 'across-the-track' determines her plight??? An empty bowl, sure, but a compassionate heart. Almost despondent that's what she is.

If you are one of those who has plenty and haven't yet given... then, maybe you are partially responsible for the situation we find here. God may take from your store-house the 'just' amount. He said, inasmuch as you have done it to the least of one of these little ones, so have you done it to me.

Her plight may be our responsibility. May we see that she has the opportunity to attend church regularly for we are, our brother's keeper.

RISD Has New Superintendent

The Board of Trustees of the Rogers Independent School District has elected R. Wayne Cornelius of Van Vleck, Texas as the new superintendent to succeed B. F. Harbour who is retiring June 20, according to C. O. Gunter, President of the Board.

Cornelius will take over the duties of the office on July 1, 1971. He and his family are house hunting in Rogers and hope to move into the community before July 1.

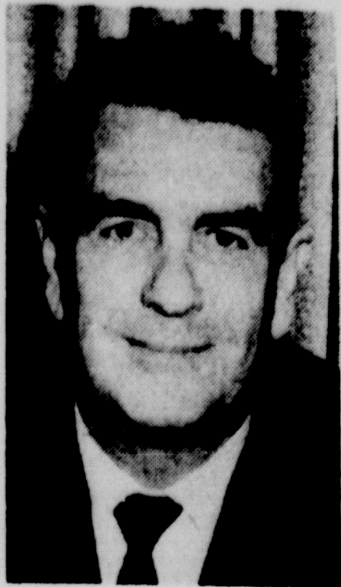

Cornelius has been superintendent of the Van Vleck ISD at Van Vleck for the past six years. He is no stranger to Central Texas having served as superintendent at Chilton four years before going to Van Vleck.

Other teaching experience includes high school principal and coach at Chilton for six years, assistant football coach and head track coach at Port Arthur for six years.

Cornelius is a native of Rotan, Texas where he grew up and finished high school. He attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood before Worldwar II, then served over three years with the Marine Corps in the Pacific during World War II.

He then returned to Howard Payne College where he received the B.A. degree. He later received the M.A. degree at Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos. He has done further graduate work at Baylor University and the University of Texas.

R. WAYNE CORNELIUS

He is married to the former Miss Viola Govett of Seguin who is also a teacher. Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius have two daughters: Suzanne who will graduate from Van Vleck High School this May and who plans to attend Howard Payne College next fall; Nancy who will be a sophomore next year in Rogers High School.

Marquart, Fuchs At Convention

The Southern District of the American Lutheran Church is holding its Eleventh Annual Convention at the Baker Hotel, Dallas this week. Attending the convention from Abiding Savior Lutheran Church of Cameron will be Pastor Donald E. Marquart and Mr. Leo Fuchs as delegates.

More than 500 pastors and lay delegates of the District's 260 congregations in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico will hear speakers including Dr. Reuben Gornitzka of Denver and Dr. Kenneth Priebe of Minneapolis. In addition, the Assistant to the President of the American Lutheran Church, Dr. Robert Busche, will speak to the Convention on vital issues affecting the American Lutheran Church as it restructures itself.

Both the Lutheran Association of Southwestern Camping Corporation and Lutheran General Hospital Corporation of San Antonio will have their meetings in connection with the convention.

Lions Open Camp For Diabetics

The Texas Lions League, which has operated a summer camp for handicapped children at Kerrville for the past 18 years, has added a new dimension of service this year with a special three-week camp for diabetic youngsters in cooperation with the diabetes associations of Texas.

League President Everett J. Grindstaff of Ballinger said the pilot program would be known as the Texas Lions Camp for Diabetic Children.

The special summer session -- June 7 through June 25 -- will be held at the facilities of Camp Manison near Friendswood, between Houston and Galveston, where a diabetic camp has been operated for the past 14 years. The League is the non-profit, charitable organization which represents all the Lions of Texas, Grindstaff said.

The diabetic camp will have 110 youngsters, 6 through 16, in the pilot program. Dr. Luther B. Travis, an associate professor in the department of pediatrics of the Texas Medical Branch of the University of Texas at Galveston, will be medical director. Tom Manison will be camp director.

The Lions of Texas, in order to better determine the need for future expansion, are making a survey of diabetic children who would be interested in the camping program.

Names, ages and addresses of potential campers should be sent to the camp secretary, Mrs. Jo Ann Horne, P. O. Box 2577, Texas City, Texas 77590.

Sharp-Tracy-Friendship

By Mrs. Leroy Guillote

The big news is rain, around two and five-tenths inches in our area. We were in Temple around twelve Friday, when the rains hit there, really pouring. We rushed home, hopefully, and waited, and waited, until almost night when an inch and six-tenths fell. The almost dry tanks did not catch any water at all from the Friday rains, but filled up from the Saturday rain. Sunday, we drove to Houston and the Rockdale streets were covered with debris from a three inch rain Saturday night. We stopped in Somerville, to find the folks there discouraged, in the two rains, they totaled about an inch.

We were in Austin Wednesday. Believe me, the trip is worth going, just to see people watch living in the country and small towns. I didn't know we were so far behind in style. Anything goes. Anything.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roesler spent Sunday in Waco with Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Phillips and daughter, Stacy and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Phillips of Dallas.

Mrs. Wavy Charles met her son, John David Charles, of New York, at the airport in Austin. Mr. Charles spent Saturday night with his mother, and flew to Mexico Sunday where he will be for the next few weeks. Mr. Charles works for Alcoa.

Miss Linda Coffman, and friends, Eileen Yates, and Ruth Dickie of Dallas spent the weekend with Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coffman.

Mrs. Hazel Clark received word Saturday, April 17 of the arrival of her newest granddaughter. The proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Blackmon of Victoria.

Vandals attempted to break into the William Stigall Store in San Gabriel this week but were put to rout by Mr. Stigall.

Mrs. W. W. Smith returned from a visit in Nolanville with James Smith and will visit awhile with Mr. and Mrs. James Terry while recuperating from her recent illness and she is much improved.

Weekend visitors of Mrs. Howard Fulcher were her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hester and Saturday afternoon Irene and Mrs. Fulcher visited Mr. and Mrs. Mose Shavers.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Clark and boys returned to their home in Houston Sunday having been here since the death of her father Mr. Paul Graves.

Mrs. Blanche Mitchum visited in Baytown and Angleton. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cryer brought Mrs. Mitchum home, and visited with his mother, Mrs. Jim Cryer.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Brockenbush and his mother, Mrs. Mattie Brockenbush visited with Mr. and Mrs. Troy Locke and children, in Houston, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Tucker and family of Pasadena. Mrs. Mattie Brockenbush remained with the Tuckers for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Spiegel and Mrs. Albert Rinn of Austin spent the weekend in Sharp.

Sunday guests of Mrs. Alice Rhodes were her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Walker of Dripping Springs.

Weekend guests of Mr. Jim Bales was the Joe Bales family of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Pruett are spending several days in their country home in Friendship. The Pruett's are from Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Pope and son of Alice, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Starnes and children of Temple visited their folks, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walker.

Mrs. Rome Shelton's visitors were her grandson and family, Mr. Bobby Cryer and family and the Terry Glenn Shelton family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Holder and children spent the weekend in the Pruett home.

Keith McKellon, district superintendent, will hold services in the Friendship Methodist Church at 9 a.m., April 18.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker and Mrs. Ada Shelton visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Doskocil.

We drove to Houston Sunday for a short visit with our friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. LaRose.

BUICK BARGAIN DAYS ARE HERE

Buick Bargain Days are saving days.

A bargain price on a stripped-down car is no bargain. But a Buick or Opel at a bargain is something else again. Because we're not selling some special stripped-down model. We're selling Buicks and Opels, the same great cars we've sold all year.

With one difference. The deals have never been better. Which means that you can move out in a new Buick or Opel at a price that's hard to believe. When Buick talks about a bargain, we give you something to believe in.

Opel 1900 Sport Coupe. With a 1.9 liter engine that operates efficiently on low lead or no lead gasoline. hydraulic valve lifters for quiet engine operation, power front disc brakes and more.

Skylark Custom. With Buick's exclusive nickel-plated engine exhaust valves for smoother operation on today's cleaner fuels. Comfort-Flo ventilation system and more.

Your Buick-Opel dealer will give you better reasons to buy a new car now than anybody else.

The business of auto safety.

Auto safety is everyone's concern. But it's our business.

And we think the attention that's being paid to auto safety now is a good thing. Because it will result in better driving for everyone.

And, frankly, better driving for everyone means better business for us.

We say Buick is something to believe in. That's why we're trying to make it easy to be safe by putting in safety features that work by themselves. You don't have to do anything to make them work.

Like side guard beams. And the energy absorbing steering column. And the cargo guard between the trunk and back seat. They start "working" even before you get in the car.

But two safety features, two of the most vital, are worthless unless you do something first.

Seat and shoulder belts.

Unfastened they do nothing. And you've seen enough statistics to know what a difference they can make. So use them.

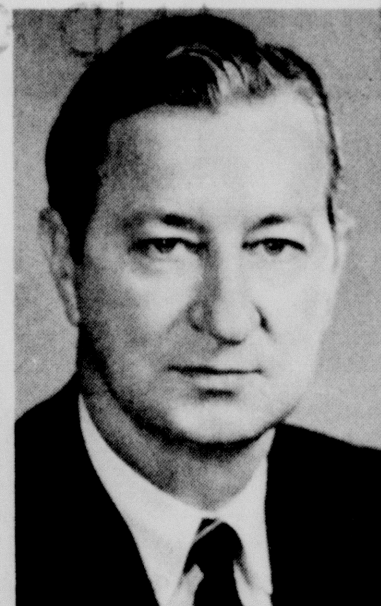

But that's not all you can do. Because the most effective safety feature of all can't be added to our cars or anybody else's.

That feature is you. And the way you drive.

Which should be defensively. And rested. And sober.

We're all in this together. And together we can solve the auto safety problem once and for all.

And the time is now.

ROTARY SPEAKER - State Senator Ralph Hall was guest speaker for the Cameron Rotary Club last Wednesday at The Texan. Hall, chairman of the Senate Counties, Cities and Towns Committee, was introduced by Tom Townsend, Sgt. of Arms for the State Senate. Program chairman was L. W. Stroup. Hall was author of the ethics bill that would have prohibited legislators from being a member of a law firm that works for pay before state agencies. He told local Rotarians that he advocates annual sessions for the legislator and rewriting of the State Constitution.

New Technique Solves Japanese Land Shortage

By Geoffrey Murray
Reuters Correspondent

TOKYO, Reuter
A desperate land shortage in Japanese cities is being solved by a new technique which produces "Artificial Land".

The method involves construction of a large platform several yards above ground to provide space for shopping centers and business and living complexes, as well as the parks lost in post-war urban expansion.

Japanese city planners say these platforms of artificial land can easily be built over existing roads and railroad lines, thus reclaiming vast areas of lost urban land.

And they believe the technique now being developed will bring closer the day when floating cities will be built in the sea off the Japanese coast.

Another artificial land complex has also started to take shape at Takashimadaira in Tokyo's northwestern suburbs.

The project was undertaken when some 451,600 square feet of land near a subway station was earmarked for the construction of subway car sheds.

To avoid losing such valuable land city planners decided to build a 118,150 square foot platform at a height of 24 feet six inches over the railroad.

Four 14-story apartment blocks, a park, swimming pool and primary school are scheduled to be completed next year.

The cost of the Takashimadaira project is estimated at 21 million dollars, excluding the construction of the subway sheds. The man-made ground will account for about a third of the cost.

Total costs work out at about 215 dollars for every square yard of artificial land.

Planners agree this is not cheap, but it is not so high as to make it impossible to construct the man-made ground on a paying basis in view of the prohibitively high cost of land in Tokyo.

With further progress in the technique, experts expect the cost to decline.

The government is giving the project high priority in line with its desire to create a better living environment for Japan's 100 million plus population.

Federal Law No Problem When Employing Students

WASHINGTON

Approach of the summertime school recess brings a reminder to employers from the Department of Labor's Wage-Hour Division that Federal child-labor laws pose no problem and actually contain special provisions to encourage employment of students.

Administrator Robert D. Moran stresses that "those 18 years of age and over may be employed in any kind of a job, and there are no restrictions on the type of work that may be offered them at the Federal minimum wage of $1.60 an hour."

He dismisses as groundless "an apparent myth that you encounter problems with Federal child-labor laws when you hire teenagers."

He also pointed out to employers: "If you are in the retail or service industry, or in agriculture, there are even provisions for special minimum wage rates less than the statutory minimum for full-time students -- those who attend an accredited school and who work only during hours they are not attending classes or during school vacations."

The Fair Labor Standards Act permits the Secretary of Labor to grant certificates to individual retail and service and farm establishments, authorizing them to pay full-time students at 85 percent of the applicable Federal minimum wage -- $1.60 an hour in non-farm employment and $1.30 an hour in agriculture.

Moran also notes that the only jobs not open to teenagers under 18 are those that the Secretary of Labor has declared hazardous. Some jobs are open to 16 and 17-year-olds even in the hazardous occupations, he added.

Emergency situations can threaten your safety on the road at any time. Will you be prepared for the proper evasive action necessary to avoid injury when you are faced with an emergency?

Plan ahead all the time - seeing the whole traffic picture - planning your "out" in case trouble develops ahead of you.

If your vehicle should have a sudden front tire blow out, would you be prepared to steer firmly straight ahead and avoid a collision with oncoming traffic or a swerve into a ditch?

Emergencies can disrupt the smooth driving of any driver - good or bad, but it is the alert driver who is most likely to be ready for safe, evasive action in an emergency situation.

Mark Twain's Story

OF THE

READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper.

One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local paper.
